

The corner stone of the new Church of the United Congregational Society, in this city, was laid yesterday morning, in presence of a large concourse of people. It was a delightful day, the weather being more like that of April than of December. The services commenced at 11 o'clock, as follows:

Reading of the Scriptures, by Rev. Mr. Upton, of the Methodist Church.
Prayer, by Rev. A. H. Dumont.
Address, by Rev. Mr. Thayer, Pastor of the Church.

The corner stone having been properly placed, the following articles were deposited in the cavity prepared for their reception:

- City Documents, 1853-4.
- " 1854-5.
- List of City Officers, 1855-6.
- Copy of Newport Daily News.
- " Herald of the Times.
- " Newport Mercury.
- " the Bible.

Articles of Faith and Church Covenant of the United Congregational Church.

List of Society and Building Committee.

List of the various Churches in Newport.

The sermon preached at the Dedication of the United Congregational Church, by Rev. A. H. Dumont, Pastor, Sabbath, June 8, 1854.

A parchment containing the following:

- Architect, Joseph C. Wells.
- Carpenter, John Seiffin.
- Masons, Samuel McConkole & Sons.
- Stone Cutter, William Crommelin.
- Building Committee, Silas H. Cottrell, Tillinghast, Tompkins, Robert Sherman, Benjamin H. Coit, Albert Hammett.

Prayer by Rev. Mr. Thayer, Pastor of the Church.

Reading of Hymn, by Rev. Mr. Adams, of the First Baptist Church.

Singing, by the congregation.

Benediction, by the Rev. Dr. Chomley, of the North Baptist Church.

The edifice will be of Byzantine or Romanesque style, and will be built entirely of stone from Portland, Connecticut; it will have a Tower on the angle containing a Belfry, which will be terminated with of which from the roof will be about 100 feet; on the other angle of the front will be a small Tower containing a stairway to the gallery; this tower will terminate with a curved roof. The size of the body of the building will be 96 feet long by 65 feet wide; the height of the side walls from the main floor will be 34 feet. The interior will be divided into nave and side aisles by columns and arches supporting the roof; the height of the nave will be 42 feet. There will be galleries on the sides, and an organ gallery over the vestibule, but which will not connect with the side galleries. The building will seat about 1100 persons, exclusive of the Organ gallery; the cost of the edifice, when completed will be about $28,000.

We learn that the rehearsals of "David" to which we alluded some time since, are progressing favorably by the "Philharmonic Society." The efforts of the Chorus and Solo Singers have been very successful, and there is now a strong probability of the "Oratorio" being performed soon in public.

We have not the slightest doubt that whenever the "Society" shall think proper to appear this publicly to our citizens for their sympathy it will be most generously given. We have no hesitation in saying that a crowded audience will be present. This the claims of the "Society" upon us all, as well as the known liberality of Newport people, warrant us in saying.

And we think that the Society need not fear to bring out this classic, beautiful composition in the best manner, without reference to expense. We will say a word as to Oratorio itself.

It was written, as we remarked some days since, by the celebrated composer, the chevalier Neukomen, who also composed the "Mount Sinaï." It has been well remarked that no Oratorio has ever been so popular as is "David." The beautiful "Triumphal March" once heard will haunt the memory forever, so simple is its structure and so pleasant and lovely is its melody.

We should be glad to give an extended analysis of the composition but must defer it until a future day. In the meantime we feel sure that our liberal citizens will feel it both a duty and pleasure to foster the "Philharmonic Society" whose members are earnestly laboring to sustain the musical taste and reputation of our city.

The Rev. James C. Richmond will deliver a lecture at Aquidneck Hall, to-morrow evening, at 7 o'clock, on the manners and customs of the Turks.

The Milwaukee (Wis.) Sentinel of Saturday week says that on the previous day one of the city aldermen was taken to the watch-house, in broad day-light, drunk, on a dray.

AN EVENT IN JOURNALISM.—The issue of Frank Leslie's Illustrated paper, to-day, is undoubtedly one of the most noticeable occurrences in Journalism which has taken place for a long time. This morning will be found at every periodical stall the first copy of this splendid publication. It presents unquestionably the best illustrated newspaper ever attempted in this country, and is, without exaggeration, quite equal to the best European efforts of the kind.

The leading feature of the current number is a series of illustrations of the important and interesting event,—the return of the Arctic Explorers. Admirable wood engravings of Dr. Kane and his companions, together with production of sketches taken in the Arctic regions, by members of the expedition, are given. These are executed in the most spirited style, whilst a number of other pictures are also furnished, exhibiting a variety of subjects of current interest.

Large cuts, of the Baker trial, of the Review in the Park on Evacuation Day, of the Kansas Constitutional Convention, of the Sailor's Snug Harbor, Dr. Hare's Spiritual exhibition and machines, scenes at the theatres, &c., with a panorama of the great Southern Pacific Railway, and portraits of its engineers, &c.

From this enumeration it will be seen that the most liberal scale is intended to be acted upon in getting up this enterprise. A glance at the execution and evident excellence of the sheet will at once convey the conviction of its surpassing merit. The freshness of the material in this number, actually giving the current events of the day, is indeed a novelty, is an achievement in this form for us. The engravings are admirable, for their boldness and spirit; the news and literary portions are of first class character. It forms a fac simile of the Illustrated London News. The issue of so successful a reproduction of that splendid paper in our city, indicates an advance in every department of printing, engraving and paper making, which we had not heretofore realized.

The character of the houses which have combined in the production of the illustrated paper gives us a full assurance that it will be a permanent thing. Frank Leslie has a large and well organized engraving and printing establishment, in prosperous standing, to carry on its mechanical and artistic execution. Messrs. Ross, Jones and Towcey, who are the exclusive agents for its sale, guarantee, from their extensive command of the market, a circulation of twelve thousand copies, upon contract. An issue of twenty-five thousand, of the first number is expected to be sold. The enterprise is an honor to the country, and a warm and immediate patronage sympathize in our social and national advancement.

We cheerfully endorse all that is said in the above article in the N. Y. Express; specimens numbers can be seen at B. I. Tilley's, where subscriptions will be received. Call there and examine it.

HIAWATHA IN ENGLAND.—The "London Journal," high critical authority, in a review of "Hiawatha," says:—

"This Song of Hiawatha will add shining and fresh laurels to the brow of Longfellow. Though peculiar and singularly uniform in measure, yet from the opening line to the last we experience no sense of weariness, no desire that the rhythm should be more broken, or more capricious. Very pictorial is this poem—a picture painted with exquisite simplicity of taste, and yet with a force, a breadth, and a durability of color which plainly shows the manliness of its parentage. About Longfellow there is no wayward mawkish sentimentality, no verbiage, no cant, no drivelling, no diabolical gloom. His bold, broad brow catches the sunlight from the four points of Heaven, and disperses it, glittering and fruitfully, through the homesteads of his readers. Longfellow is the healthiest, the heartiest and the most harmonious of all the American poets. True to nature, he is true to himself. The most barren legend is made fruitful by the warmth and fervor of his intellect; but when, as in this Song of Hiawatha, he adopts a tradition intrinsically charged with the elements of social progress, his genius, bearing its broad pinions to the sky, shows us only the more unmistakably, how yearningly it leans to man and to man's happiness."

SALE OF AUTOGRAPHS.—Some 200 autographs were sold in New York on Monday at prices ranging from three cents up to $11.25. The latter price was paid for an autograph of Washington. Another signature of Washington was also sold at $6. Benedict Arnold's autograph was sold at $4.50; Henry Laurens, President of the Continental Congress, with two Generals of the Revolution, Irvine and Thompson, brought $10.75.—The initials of Aaron Burr [A. B.] brought fifty cents. Robert Schuyler in reference to city passes on the New Haven Railroad sold at one shilling; John Van Buren, one shilling; W. H. Seward, 31c.; John C. Calhoun, 25c. A number of autographs of the signers of the Declaration of Independence average about a dollar; Henry Clay at 87c.; Daniel Webster, 25c.; Andrew Jackson, $2.50; Edward Everett, 25c.; Jared Sparks, $1; James K. Polk and James Buchanan, one shilling.

XXXIVTH CONGRESS—First Session.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.

SENATE.—Messrs. Hale, Durkee, Yule, and Pearce appeared, and was sworn in. The Rev. H. C. Dean was elected Chaplain, and the Senate then adjourned.

HOUSE.—The House resumed voting for Speaker, with the following result:

|             |    |             |    |
|-------------|----|-------------|----|
| Richardson, | 74 | Campbell,   | 58 |
| Banks,      | 73 | Fuller,     | 20 |
| Marshall,   | 19 | Scattering, | 26 |

No Choice—111 being necessary to an election.

Boston, Dec. 4.

John Sargeant was elected Mayor of Cambridge yesterday by three hundred and seventy majority over Mr. Raymond, the Know Nothing candidate.

St. Louis, Dec. 3.

Accounts from Kansas state that Gov. Shannon had telegraphed to the President concerning the present condition of affairs in that Territory.

He says that one thousand men has arrived in Lawrence, and rescued a person from the sheriff of Douglas County, and burned some houses and other property. He asks the President to order out the troops at Fort Leavenworth, to aid in the execution of the laws.

Dispatches from Weston arrived here to-day, by express, bringing startling news from Atchison. Some Free State officers had taken possession of important papers, and an attack upon Atchison was anticipated. A messenger had been sent to Weston for fifty armed men.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.

The National Intelligencer of this morning confirms the statement that Gov. Shannon has telegraphed to the President on Kansas affairs. It says that the President received the Governor's despatch yesterday, which is to the effect that Civil War is actually threatened and requesting prompt assistance. The President has ordered the immediate despatch of troops from the nearest posts.

COMMODORES IN WASHINGTON.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Express says:—

"The three illustrious Commodores of New York have all arranged here for a winter campaign—Commodore George Law, in an establishment of his own, with equipage, &c., &c.; Commodore Vanderbilt, at Brown's, with his family, and Commodore Collins, here, there, and everywhere. When Greek meets Greek then comes the ting of war. The Washington coming campaign is to be a great one, on ocean and on land."

LOLA MONTES AGAIN IN TROUBLE.—Passengers on the What Cheer from Australia say that Lola Montes had a stormy passage from this port to Sydney. The lap dog of Lola was at fault in some matter of etiquette, when the mate gave him a kick; Lola seeing this rudeness, drew her dagger and attempted to stab the officer. Her design was frustrated, and she took such a disgust that she refused to live in the cabin, and took up her quarters in the steerage. At her first appearance on the stage in Sydney there were only three or four ladies present, but when she was called at the falling of the curtain, she made a speech and returned particular thanks to the ladies for their patronage.—San Francisco News.

THE MEADOWS OF AMERICA.—Governor Wright, of Indiana, says that our grass crop is not properly appreciated. No crop approaches so near a spontaneous yield, and none yields so large a profit. The hay crop of the United States in 1855 he estimates at 14,000,000 tons; that for 1856 he estimates at 15,000,000 tons—which is worth $150,000,000; while the whole cotton crop is valued at only $128,000,000. Of this crop more than half is produced by four states—New York, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. The grass crop which is used for pasture is at least as valuable; so that single herds is worth annually over $300,000,000. Few people will believe that the grass crop of New York state is worth more than its wheat, and yet statistics show that such is the fact.

A MAN FRIGHTENED TO DEATH.—Lloyd's forthcoming Steamboat Directory gives a singular account of a man being frightened to death on board the steamer Jas. Robt. during her trip up the Mississippi river in 1852. The boat took fire at night, and the cry of fire, fire, soon aroused all the passengers, and the wild excitement prevailed. Women were running to and fro in their night dresses, screaming at the top of their voices for assistance. One man, Mr. J. C. Dent, of New York, in his excitement, rushed to his stateroom, snatched up his trunk, which contained $12,000, carried it a few steps, and then fell dead in the cabin from excess of fright. The fire was subdued.

A LIBERAL ACT.—The Christian Register reports that the Rev. Mr. Knapp, of the Unitarian Church in Brookline, after eight years service, has been obliged by continued ill health to give up preaching for the present, and resigned his pastoral charge. It states that his parishioners, on learning his determination to resign, sent him a gift of upwards of two thousand eight hundred dollars, and at his request have judiciously invested it for his benefit. "We are glad to hear," it adds, "of such an act of thoughtful liberality. 'Tis highly honorable to the people; and is a desirable encouragement to the professions in these times of uncertainty and change."

How to be Loved.—Here is a secret worth knowing. William Wirt in a letter to his daughter, thus points upon the importance of the small sweet courtesies of life. Depend upon it, he is right. He says: "I want to tell you a secret. The way to make yourself pleasing to others, is to show that you care for them. The whole world is like the miller at Mansfield who cared for nobody—no, not he—because nobody cared for him. And the whole world will serve you so, if you give them the same care. Let all persons, therefore see that you do care for them, by showing them what Stierne so happily calls the small, sweet courtesies in which there is no parade; whose voice is too still to tease and which manifest themselves by tender and affectionate looks, and little kind acts of attention, giving others the preference, in every little enjoyment at the table, in the field, walking, sitting or standing."
